NEWS OF INTEREST TO FARMERS — SOIL CONSERVATION — FORESTRY — LIVESTOCK

NEWS OF COUNTY FARM BUREAUS

By Byron Dyer

Daughter with Mahlen Brannen in the center of the tier.

A trio of young ladies dancing placed second. This group was Misses Mary Sue DeLoach, Diane Womack, and Judy Roberts. Actually this was a cowboy tap dance. A favorite of the audience was Little Morgan Chester doing a "heart-break" number. Mrs. H. C. Bland and Mrs. Evelyn Henderson had worked out 16 talent numbers that gave Portals one of the most colorful and entertaining Farm Bureau programs in several years.

West Side will hold its community queen and talent contest in May. Mrs. Paul Nesmith announced Tuesday night at their meeting.

Mrs. Carter Deal was named Red Cross chairman at West Side. To work with her will be Mrs. N. S. Parrish, Julia Ann Hendrix, Niki Hendrix, Betty Jan Saunders, Glenda Brannen, and Jo Ann.

Smokey Says:

New uses make it more important than ever that we don't burn the trees!

May meeting, Mrs. H. G. Lee stated Wednesday night.

R. P. Mikell was a visitor at Stilson.

J. B. Her, John M. Gay, and Rayford W. Williams were visitors and participated in the programs at West Side, Stilson and Portals last week.

Mr. Williams was interested in lining up community workers on the Red Cross. Mr. Her and Mr. Gay had charge of the demonstration on recommended tobacco barns, either for new barns and for renovating old barns. The expert stations have found that the old type barns did not provide ample ventilation for drying tobacco and made it necessary for the tobacco to be actually cooked, instead of being dried.

Mr. Her presented a small scale model that could be displayed on a table to illustrate his points and to show where the air could be taken in from the bottom and carried out the top. Mr. Gay demonstrated a larger model equipped with burners that was mounted on a trailer outside of the meeting hall.

Mr. Her pleaded with the groups to level their ground floor of the barn and then put four to six inches of sand or cinders on the leveled floor. This will prevent any cold pockets from developing and help reduce the fuel cost in curing tobacco.

SOIL AND WATER CONSERVATION

By E. T. (Red) Mullis

Next week, May 6-12, is National Soil Conservation Week. The National Association of Soil Conservation Districts has proclaimed the week for observation in Georgia in cooperation with the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts.

Mr. Her offered plans for renovating old barns or for new barns. These plans are also available at the county agent's office.

Miss Henrietta Hall, county Farm Bureau women chairman, has stated that the county contests for community queen and talent entrants will be held in June. If the communities complete their contests by the first part of June, the county winners do not have to be reported until October 15, but several groups wanted to hold their contests this spring.

Mr. Hall stated that the county Farm Bureau would work with them in any manner so desired.

Bullock County reported 87 more members in the Farm Bureau Saturday to bring the total for this Farm Bureau year to 1383.

W. E. Gear, principal of the Southeast Bulloch High School, has procured H. L. Wingate, president of the Georgia Farm Bureau, to show where the air could be taken in from the bottom and carried out the top. Mr. Gay demonstrated a larger model equipped with burners that was mounted on a trailer outside of the meeting hall.

Mr. Her pleaded with the groups to level their ground floor of the barn and then put four to six inches of sand or cinders on the leveled floor. This will prevent any cold pockets from developing and help reduce the fuel cost in curing tobacco.
